SUBJECT 1: Hi, friends. We are so, so, so excited to share that our podcast Forever Ago is returning for a brand new season. If you didn't get a chance to hear the first season, Forever Ago is a history show for the whole family, where every episode looks into the surprising and fascinating history of things we think are ordinary but they're not, like ice cream flavors, video games, baths, and umbrellas. We think you'll really like it, and we have the trailer of the new season for you to check out.

Make sure to subscribe to Forever Ago wherever you get your podcasts, and listen to all the episodes from Season One to get ready. New episodes come out on June 1st. All right, here's the trailer.

EZRA: Joy, what's going on?

JOY DOLO: Hey, Ezra. I'm so excited, because Forever Ago is back for a second season. If you haven't heard the first season, check it out in your favorite podcast player. We looked into where shoes, cameras, and sandwiches came from. But it's been so long since then, I forgot how to host.

EZRA: It's easy. Say Forever Ago is a history show for the whole family.

JOY DOLO: It's a history show for the whole family.

EZRA: Where we dig into the past.

JOY DOLO: To find all kinds of surprising stories that shaped our world.

EZRA: Like, did you know that ancient Romans used to scrape dirt off of their bodies instead of taking a shower?

JOY DOLO: Yeah, or that ice cream used to be flavored with whale poo?

EZRA: And so much more. There will also be games, and we'll hear from other kids too.

JOY DOLO: Wow. You're really good at this. I can't wait to listen.

EZRA: Well, you're hosting, so I'm pretty sure you'll hear it.

JOY DOLO: Oh, yeah. Thanks for the help. I'm Joy Dolo. Explore the past with Season Two of Forever Ago. Our first episode is coming June 1st. Tell your friends, and go ahead and follow today so you don't miss it.
